WHY DID I MAKE THESE CARDS????

I'm seriously hoping to make everyone believe in Astrology. If you know anyone who doesn't, just have them look up anything about their own chart using these cards. They will be completely amazed! I'm not kidding!!! (unless they're in denial or worship a god who hates astrology). Thing is, I just finished creating some serious cards that look just like these except they're serious (and very nice) and for people who really love Astrology, and believe it is real. Then, it dawned on me that the REAL, REAL way to promote the perfect truth and incredible wisdom of Astrology is to TOTALLY EXAGGERATE it, which I'm especially good at by the way (you'll figure out why later).

Outrageous and unflattering you say? Well, I guess that depends on what sign or planet you're reading about, doesn't it? Besides I've spent YEARS studying my own chart in order to find that illusive streak of mischievous wickedness all people are born with, so I could finally share it with pride. Now that it's out in the open, I can be bad with total abandon, and even add in some gratuitous sex and potty language for added fun!! Thank you ancient Astrologers!!! (and modern ones too)

WHY DO I LOVE ASTROLOGY SO MUCH??!!

As a child, mom told me people were strange (and dangerous) and warned me to stay away from them. So I did - but I watched...ever so carefully, hiding behind any available wall or pair of legs. Little by little I realized that mom was truly brilliant and wise. Most people, including my family, were indeed completely strange, and dangerous! So, I did my best to stay away from them altogether until I was about 9 when I found my first and only true friend, who, as it turns out, was (and is) a Taurus! It made perfect sense!!! Then I found out that my brother was a Taurus too, and everything about him started to make sense!! (my arm still hurts). I later discovered that my DAD was, you guessed it, a Taurus... and my other brother with the very noticeable hair was a LEO!!! As I continued making these mind-blowing Astrological discoveries, I found that I was able to explain away the strangeness of people, including myself! What else could be responsible for a girl (me) growing up in a family with no apparent religious practices or belief at all joining the Pioneer Girls prayer group (only briefly – there was no pioneering going on), with a uniform and everything!! DUH - I'm a SAGITTARIUS!! Okay, so now you get it. It just works. If you want to know EXACTLY what makes people strange, Astrology is the perfect answer, and it offers up all the excuses for unusual, crazy or even downright bad behavior you could possibly need in your whole life. Use it, and enjoy!!

HOW TO USE THE CARDS

Okay, it's easy. First get your chart... just get on a computer and search for "astrology charts". Then, look at where all your Planets are in the Signs and Houses, match them up on the cards, read carefully and learn. Keep in mind that these cards cannot make miracles. Use your head - make sentences that are grammatically correct and sound great! That's not my responsibility, ok? NO refunds!! If you do your best and some combinations still sound bad, they probably are - but do try to find some redeeming value, and get help.

the Mysterious Symbols

♈ Aries ♉ Taurus ♊ Gemini ♋ Cancer ♌ Leo ♍ Virgo
♎ Libra ♏ Scorpio ♐ Sagittarius ♑ Capricorn ♒ Aquarius
♓ Pisces Red = Fire, Green = Earth, Light Blue = Air, Dark Blue = Water

☉ Sun ☾ Moon ♀ Mercury ♀ Venus ♂ Mars ♃ Jupiter
♄ Saturn ♅ Uranus ♆ Neptune ♇ or ♁ Pluto ♆ Chiron
⊗ Part of Fortune ♁ North Node ♁ South Node ♁ Midheaven
♌ Ascendant or Rising Point ♄ Retrograde Planet

Making your Sentences

PLANET – defines doing stuff (generally, & for the purpose at hand)

To Make a Sentence using just Planet in House, start your sentence with the PLANET (that means Sun or Moon too!!) omit the words at the end in italics, and finish the sentence with a line from the HOUSE card Example – Mars in 1st House: If you're wrong (and you are) I'll get you ~ right off the bat

To Make a Sentence with Planet, Sign & House, start your sentence with the PLANET, include the word at the end in italics, and add SIGN and HOUSE. Example – Jupiter in Cancer in the Eighth House: I am so lucky and get everything I want through ~ ~ endless bitching and moaning that you WILL listen to, ~ during sex (ie. all the time)

You can make a Sentence using just Planet & Sign, too! Signs are all about HOW you do stuff! Start your sentence with the PLANET, include the words at the end in italics, and then make a sentence using one or more of the phrases from the card for the SIGN that Planet is actually in. I'm not giving you an example. I'm tired.. Look at the other examples and adjust! Okay—last one!

HOUSE – where you do stuff!!

To learn about a House in which there is No Planet, and/or the Sign on a House Cusp, start your sentence with I totally Behave with, or I Needs to Show ~ then continue with words & phrases for the Sign at the Cusp (beginning line) of that House, and then a phrase for the House. YOU CAN DO IT!!! (thanks for your patience, I'm going to take a shower now)

Disclaimer:

These Cards and Book are only for illuminating and making fun of the many amazing and true astrological attributes inflicted upon us at birth, and is certainly not intended to glorify, trivialize or otherwise say it's okay to do any kind of illegal, hurtful, immoral, mean-spirited, bad, extreme or violent type thing. Nor does the author claim to know everything.

Also, I am really good at grammar in real life, and never uses bad words, and I only tease Sherpas 'cause I like the way it sounds, plus I have nothing against the Himalayas or Nibiru or New Zealand or Bikers or Roofers, or even Libras! Scorpios are my favorite, too.

So - no complaining letters please!! I mean it!!!

Thank you!
